

Dani Enli Artist Bio

Dani Enli is a Chinese-Australian artist from Perth, redefining modern pop with her unique genre-blending sound that fuses Pop, R&B, and Jersey Club. As a self-written, self-produced artist and skilled dancer, she balances commercial appeal with raw emotion, exploring love, heartbreak, and self-discovery. Just one year into her career, Dani has made waves with two songs surpassing 200K streams and editorial placements on Spotify's "Fresh Finds AU & NZ" and "Pop N' Fresh," as well as Apple Music's "New Pop." Her music video "till the end of time" reached #4 on Vevo's DSCVR R&B playlist. Dani has performed in Sydney, Melbourne, and Perth, recently opening for Kennyon Brown, J.Tajor, and Teo Glacier, solidifying her status as an artist to watch.

Dani's music has attracted a massive social media presence. Her authentic storytelling has amassed 3 billion organic views on Instagram, with multiple viral posts. Leaving behind a promising career as a doctor for music, she stays committed to authenticity and creative freedom. A proud Asian artist, Dani is on a mission to champion Asian representation in global pop. More than an artist to watch—she's a movement in the making, inspiring a generation to chase their dreams with fearless conviction.
