

HEADSEND

HEADSEND is a rock band from the outskirts of Byron Bay, Australia. Founded by Rasmus King (vocals/guitar), the band delivers raw, nostalgic energy infused with a modern edge.

Rasmus began writing and recording original music in 2022. By 2024, HEADSEND had grown into a full band, with Rasmus joined by his brother Kyuss King (bass) and schoolmate Bon Soric (drums). Inspired by 90s rock icons like Fugazi, Nirvana and Smashing Pumpkins, the trio blends their influences with touches of David Bowie, The Beatles, and Beck to create a sound that's both timeless and fresh.

HEADSEND have been in the studio working with acclaimed producers Mike Crossey (Arctic Monkeys, The 1975) and Nick DiDia (Pearl Jam, Rage Against the Machine), with new music set for release later in 2025.

Live performances at Bangalow Bowlo on New Year's Eve 2024 and Hollywood Hotel in Surry Hills, Sydney in January 2025, have packed venues and earned rave reviews from fans and industry alike.

Looking ahead, HEADSEND plans to return to the U.S. in 2025 for further sessions with acclaimed producers, with interest from Brendan O'Brien and John Hill amongst others. Represented globally by TaP Management (Lana Del Rey & Dermot Kennedy) and WME Agency, the band is poised for an exciting breakout year both on stage and in the studio.

Both Rasmus and Kyuss are also professional surfers, having spent over a decade competing and free surfing around the world.
