

LAZY GHOST drift somewhere between the coastline and the chaos — a band born for sun-drenched afternoons and sweat-soaked nights. Their brand of psychedelic surf rock is equal parts carefree and cutting, leaning into the good times without ignoring the darkness beneath. There's groove in every riff, defiance in every lyric, and just enough danger to keep things interesting.

With Triple J Unearthed radio rotation, sold-out shows across Australia and New Zealand, and a coveted set at the final Splendour in the Grass, Byron Bay band LAZY GHOST have grown into one of the most magnetic emerging acts in the country. Their live shows hit like a wave and leave just as much residue — melody-heavy, emotionally charged, and impossible to forget.
